Languages constructed by J. R. R. Tolkien - Wikipedia
The English philologist and author J. R. R. Tolkien created a number of constructed languages, including languages devised for fictional settings. Inventing languages, something that he called glossopoeia (parallelizing his idea of mythopoeia or myth-making), was a lifelong occupation for Tolkien, starting in his teens. An early project was the reconstruction of an unrecorded early Germanic

Why did J. R. R. Tolkien not like Frank Herbert’s Dune? - Quora
Answer (1 of 21): The only text I have seen that supports this is: Tolkien says he disliked it. I don’t know why, so I’ll speculate, the way some other people have. Take all of this with an entire shaker of salt. I do enjoy a good sci-fi/fantasy compare and contrast. I think it has to do with the evolution of verse structure in old and middle English poetry.

Mythopoeia - Wikipedia
Mythopoeia (also mythopoesis, after Hellenistic Greek μυθοποιία, μυθοποίησις “myth-making”) is a narrative genre in modern literature and film where a fictional or artificial mythology is created by the writer of prose or other fiction. This meaning of the word mythopoeia follows its use by J. R. R. Tolkien in the 1930s. The authors in this genre integrate traditional
